

What the easiest way to find most recent data added to CMR?

If I am only interested in the newest collections/granules that have been populated since the last time I checked, what's the easiest way to do that via the API?